California Iris

California Iris can be more securely established, due to the early ripening season allowing earlier shipment.

A general index, arranged alphabetically, will be found on page thirty-two.

The varieties are also grouped by color on pages nineteen and twenty.

More than WELCOME

—Always

SOONER or later everyone who loves beauty is drawn to Pasadena for at least a short visit. Pasadena is truly one of the outstanding garden spots in America.

When you come, we want you to call on us, to see our Exhibition gardens, to greet us as one iris enthusiast to another. If you are fortunate in being near during the season of blooms, at its height during April and May, you have a special treat in store that you will never forget. There are usually some varieties in bloom at all times of the year. The earliest of the tall bearded varieties start to bloom in February. By the latter part of March usually thousands of plants are in bloom.

In Southern California our spring showing is an annual event which iris enthusiasts look forward to with that tugging eagerness which only the true flower lover fully understands.

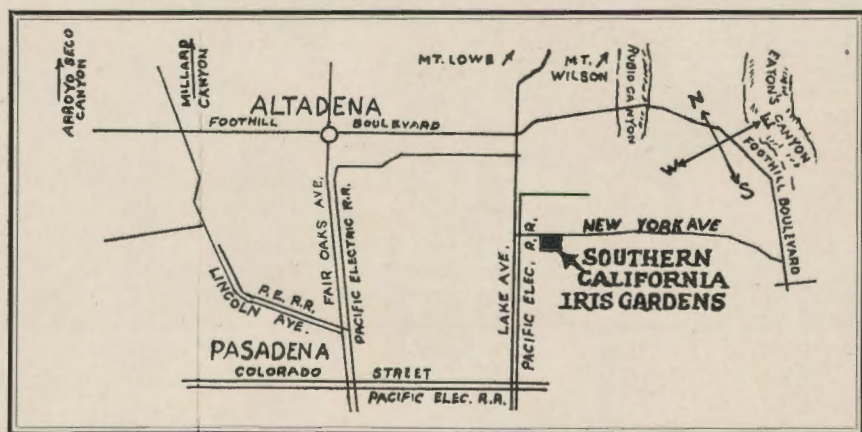

You will see in our gardens about 700 varieties of iris. Many are not yet listed in our catalogs, for we make it a practice to live with our new varieties several years, fully developing and testing them, before accepting orders.

Again we repeat, come and get acquainted. Talk over your gardens and your plans. If we can help you in any way we shall consider it a real privilege.

1932 Introductions

E. O. Essig's New Introductions for 1932

- EASTER MORN (Essig, 1932). The head of the list and an extraordinarily fine iris. The color is pure white with a clear yellow center. The falls are stiff, wide flaring, and of unusual substance. Stalks well branched, stiff, three to five feet high. Foliage exceptionally large and vigorous. A number of nationally prominent breeders who have seen it have all declared it to be outstanding. Trials in Massachusetts have proved it hardy. Both the originator and the introducers are proud to offer it. Because of Miss Sturtevant's enthusiasm for it, we have departed from our established policy and welcome her joining us in its introduction. Awarded Honorable Mention by the American Iris Society.. $20.00
- NEW ALBION (Essig, 1932). A sister seedling of Easter Morn, but quite distinct in form, color and substance, and also producing quite a different garden effect. The flowers are pure waxy-white with fine clean cut standards and nicely-formed, flaring falls without the yellow markings in the center, which is one of the outstanding features of Easter Morn. The variety is also somewhat smaller than its illustrious sister, but is none the less hardy, having also been proved in the East. Its worth may be gained from the fact that the originator, until last year, considered it his best white. 5.00
- SITKA (Essig, 1932). The third splendid white offered this year is a huge flower of good form and substance which has been splendid in the garden and in show displays. It has proved to be an exceptionally prolific bloomer and is hardy throughout the country. It lasts longer than any other white in the garden. 5.00
- PASTEL SHADES (Essig, 1932). A thoroughbred intermediate plicata with well-balanced and somewhat ruffled flowers, which are of a charming combination of yellow, amber, and old gold, overlaid with pink color tones. The name somewhat expresses the color effect. This beautiful hybrid produces an abundance of flowers and is especially fine as a cut flower and as an exhibit at flower shows. 5.00
- BLUE GOWN (Essig, 1932). Tall blue iris of fine depth of color, nearly a self, large size, good form, and firm substance. The brilliant golden beard is charmingly displayed on wide flaring falls. It is a fitting companion of Blue and Gold, but has more purple tones and is taller. The stems are slender, stiff and from four to five feet high. We have introduced a number of blue irises, but every one of them has an individual quality and distinction. 5.00

- SIERRA BLUE (Essig, 1932). An exceptionally smooth, refined flower of very clear soft blue tone and good substance. The neat, flaring falls and trim standards have an immediate appeal to all who admire well-bred and really beautiful self-colored flowers. The stems are slender, well-branched and carry the flowers gracefully three or four feet above the ground. Both in the originator's gardens at Berkeley, and in the trial and show gardens of the introducer at Pasadena, this variety has received unstinted praise. $5.00

New Fulva Hybrids

From a large number of beautiful hybrids obtained by crossing Iris Fulva and Dorothea K. Williamson, Mr. Essig selected a few choice ones for exhibition at flower shows in 1930 and 1931. So enthusiastically were these received and so urgent were the requests for them that three of the best are being offered this year. These particular hybrids combine the general habits of both parents, but are larger and apparently more vigorous than Fulva and have stiffer stems and better formed flowers than the other parent in this region. They grow well in water, around the edges of pools, as well as in ordinary soil, provided that fertilizer and water are added in sufficient quantities. In full sun or shade they do very well around the edges of lawns where an abundance of water is regularly applied.

- ARKANSAS (Essig, 1932). A very unusual and charming pinkish-orange self, like a pink-toned Fulva. $2.50
- CHOCTAW (Essig, 1932). A beautiful soft medium-toned mauve purple self. Paler than Dorothea K. Williamson. 2.50
- TULSA (Essig, 1932). Very deep and rich velvety, royal purple self. This is the finest dark purple so far obtained in any iris and is extraordinary in every way and by far the grandest of the three. Perfectly exquisite. 5.00
- A collection of Mr. Essig's three new Fulva Hybrids. 7.00

Mrs. Lena Lothrop's Introductions

- THEME (Lothrop, 1932). Among dark blends there is no iris more beautiful and distinguished. The large flowers are carried on perfectly branched stems 46 inches tall. The substance is thick and firm. The ground color of the conic standards is bronze-gray with lavender reflections which grow deeper and more beautiful with age. In a newly-opened flower the undertone of the broad flaring falls is bronzed tan flushed and veined Petunia Violet which changes to a deep gray tinted and veined Old Lithro Purple. In its rare coloring it is unlike any other iris and in size, form, substance and branching could not be improved. Awarded Honorable Mention by the American Iris Society. $15.00

- RAE (Lothrop, 1932). An exceptionally clear and luminous yellow on a long-branched 36-inch stem. The large flower has thick substance and fine close texture. In the garden or on the show table it is outstanding because of its clear warm color and fine form. According to Ridgeway the conic-domed standards are Amber and the flaring falls are Barium Yellow veined deeper yellow in the haft. The beard is Deep Chrome, the broad yellow styles are erect. Awarded Honorable Mention by the American Iris Society..... 10.00
- CARNELIAN (Lothrop, 1932). This huge red flower on a four-foot splendidly branched stem is a seedling of two perfectly hardy parents. The flowers are as large as those of Los Angeles. In effect it is a red self, redder and more smoothly colored than Medrano. According to Ridgeway, the standards are Auricula Purple and the falls Blackish Red Purple..... 5.00
- GOLD LACE (Lothrop, 1932). A seedling of Mme. Durrand having the tall, slenderly graceful stem of its parent and also the characteristic habit of bringing forth flower after flower from the same branch until one wonders if the supply will ever be exhausted. The flowers are gracefully poised and are excellent in substance and form. The standards are a bright old gold and the flaring old gold falls are smoothly overlaid with rosy lavender. The whole flower is covered with sparkling gold dust..... 5.00

C. S. Milliken's Introduction for 1932

- RED FLARE (Milliken, 1932). This variety, formerly carried under our garden No. 61, has attracted more visitors in our gardens than any other variety. Its blood red flowers with their brilliant golden beards carried lightly on three to four foot well-branched stems, attract one's attention from a distance, and a closer inspection increases one's admiration of it. Falls oxblood red, slightly deeper in the middle than at the edges, flaring; standards Indian red shading to lustrous antique brown near the haft. Excellent substance. Stalk 3 to 4 feet, well branched. Unquestionable hardiness. Honorable Mention American Iris Society

About Iris

THE IRIS is an easy-to-grow perennial, at home in almost any soil, requiring little attention or moisture and furnishing flowers of enchanting beauty and delicacy over a long period of time.

There are hundreds of varieties of Iris and charming new introductions are added each year. These varieties are classified under group heads as listed throughout this catalog. While all of these groups have the general characteristics of Iris with which we are all familiar, there is sufficient difference in formation of bloom, colorings, time of blossoming, height of flower stock, etc., to give unlimited scope to the gardener who wishes to specialize on this interesting species. The planting of iris should no longer be confined simply to one small bed. For borders, walks and mass effects no perennial is more pleasing. Many have entire sections of their gardens devoted to iris.

It is impossible to lay down any hard and fast rules regarding the culture of iris, as conditions are varied. They thrive in any soil, unless it is pure sand. When well established they should be given enough water, particularly just before and during blooming time, to keep them in good growing condition. Give good drainage and you will not have any trouble with root rot. Drainage can be secured in heavier soils by planting on ridges.

If the soil is poor and needs fertilizing, bone meal can be used or, in California, a light application of blood or tankage. Bearded iris like lime. Lime is particularly beneficial on heavy soils as it flocculates these soils and improves the drainage. Barn yard fertilizer, if used at all, must be well decayed and thoroughly worked into the soil.

Transplanting may be done at any season, but the best time, if one cares to keep watered sufficiently to start the growth, is when they go out of bloom; otherwise the fall is better. Do

MAUNA LOA (Berry). A tall, large flowered well branched iris of decided merit. The reddish flowers are very conspicuous in the garden. It is of Mesopotamica parentage and flourishes in California. 4 ft.	2.50
MESSALINE (Millet). A very vigorous and large flowered variety in red and gold. It is as yet but little known but is decidedly worth having. 4 ft.	2.50
MIDGARD (Sass). An outstanding iris greatly admired by all who see it. The color combination is yellow deeply flushed with rose pink. The large, perfectly formed flowers are borne on 3 ft. stalks. See color illustration on page 1.	2.50
MILDRED PRESBY (Farr). Cream standards and very rich velvety violet falls. A very popular variety which has received recognition from the American Iris Society. 30 in. 3 for $1.25;	.50
MODOC (Essig, 1929). This remarkable iris is a cross of two outstanding and perfectly hardy parents. For velvety depth of color, substance and general vigor, it must be put in the very front rank. The standards are cotinga purple, the falls darker than Ridgeway's blackish-purple.	10.00
MRS. MARION CRAN (Perry). A beautiful shade of brilliant light rose. A prodigious bloomer. This is the true stock. 4 ft.	1.00 not overwater, however, so that they will become water-logged and decay. If too dry before getting rooted they are likely to shrivel even if they do not die.

Do not plant deep; barely cover the rhizomes.

Some varieties should be divided every two years—others every three or four. Give the rhizomes room for the side shoots to get a foothold.

Of course there are exceptions to the above general cultural notes as you discover further on in this book. When any group or variety of iris demands special treatment we have called attention to it in the catalog listings.

ORTRUD (Morrison). A large rich reddish blend. It makes an impressive clump when in full bloom. 3 ½ ft.....	2.50
PACIFIC (Essig, 1929). An early clear deep blue with a long blooming period. Excellent shape and substance, particularly resistant to rot; good foliage, vigorous, but rather slow to increase. Praised by many of the most prominent breeders of the country. 3 ft.....	2.50
PALE MOONLIGHT (Essig, 1931). A very large and vigorous hybrid bearing tall, well-branched stems and large stately flowers. A pale campanula blue self with a bright orange beard. This variety has been a great favorite with the originator... ..	3.50
PARMA (Edlmann). "Similar to Ramona but larger and richer in color. Outstanding from the effect of the red-orange beards and old gold hafts veined with cinnamon brown. 3 ft.".....	10.00
PEAU ROUGE (Cayeux). A distinctive color combination found in no other iris. The standards are a soft old rose, flushed with bronze and the falls are a deep rich velvety red, slightly flushed with bronze. 2 ½ ft.....	.50
PETRUCHIO (Morrison). This makes a very brilliant patch in the garden with its rich carmine and violet coloring. 2 ½ ft.....	2.00
PINK LASS (Essig, 1929). A charming pink plicata which is always admired. Excellent as a cut flower. 3 ft.....	1.50
PIONEER (Bliss). One of the very finest of the red-purples. Well branched, free flowering, vigorous. 3 ½ ft.....	3 for $2.00; .75
PRIMROSE (Sturtevant). A refined and pure yellow which is unquestionably in the front rank among yellow irises. Given an Award of Merit by the American Iris Society. The standards slightly deeper than the falls. 30 in.....	3 for $2.00; .75
PRINCE CHARMING (Sturtevant). White frilled and tinted with pink. Generally admired. 3 ft.....	.50
PRINCESS OSRA (Bliss). A very large flowered clear white spotted and veined with light lavender. Distinct and one of the best of its type. 3 ft.....	.75
PURISSIMA (Mohr-Mitchell). This is a splendid white but is now surpassed by Easter Morn. It is vigorous, well branched, and of good form and substance. It seems to do better in California than in the East. 3 ½ to 4 ft.....	3.00
RED SPLENDOR (Sturtevant). This brilliant large flowered but low-growing iris was one of the favorites in our garden last year. The falls are ruffled and spreading. 20 in.....	3 for $2.00; .75
RENE DENIS (Denis). This rare variety is a joy to those who appreciate refinement. It is a delicate blending of yellow, rose and grey. The flowers are large with flaring falls. 3 ½ ft.....	2.50
REVERIE (Sturtevant). Red, buff and pink. Fine form and substance. Late blooming. 40 in.....	3 for $1.25; .50
RIALGAR (Sturtevant). This is an iris that will brighten your garden. Standards bright yellow; falls brown. Large flowers. A deservedly popular variety. 2 ft.	3 for $1.25; .50
ROBT. WALLACE (Perry). This is a favorite of ours. The falls are a very deep rich purple, the standards a deep violet. Greatly admired by all of our visitors. Often blooms in winter in California and again in spring. 3 ½ ft.....	3 for $2.00; .75
ROSADA (Mohr). A beautiful clear pink. Large flowers, vigorous and hardy. 3 ½ ft. Excellent.....	3 for $1.00; .50

Each

ROSE MITCHELL (Essig, 1929). Professor Essig's idea of the worth of the flower is shown by his naming it for Mrs. Sydney Mitchell, a name which suggests the rose color and also fine iris originations. The plant has exceptional vigor. The flowers are rose colored selfs. 4 ft.	2.50
ROSULTRA (Essig, 1929). This makes a splendid garden clump as it is floriferous, is very vigorous, and has a rosy shade with exceptional carrying qualities. It is also particularly beautiful under artificial light. 3½ ft.	1.00
SAN GABRIEL (Dean). Large, fragrant flowers of lustrous lavender, flushed with rosy mauve. Stems strong and well branched. 4 to 5 feet high. We have had stalks 6 ft. high. Very early. Single clumps have bloomed continuously for eight weeks. The foliage is green all winter, the best foliage of any iris in our garden. We consider this one of the finest irises in cultivation for the milder climates. 5 ft.	3 for $2.00; .75
SANTA BARBARA (Mohr). A very fine lavender blue, large horizontal falls, well branched stems. Early. Excellent. 3½ ft.	3 for $1.00; .50
SEAFOAM (Sturtevant). This white variety with the falls faintly tinged with yellow is very early but has a long blooming period. Splendid substance. 2 ft.	2.50
SENSATION (Cayeux). Magnificent clear blue flowers of fine form and substance borne on tall powerful stems. A truly outstanding iris. 4 ft.	3.50
SEQUOIAH (Shull). A tall rich red blend borne on tall well branched stalks. The flowers are large and of excellent substance and shape. 3½ ft.	2.00
SHERBERT 2ND (Sturtevant). A rich carmine and ecru borne in stately fashion on tall stems. A striking variety that brings forth exclamations. 3½ ft.	1.00
SIMONE VAISSIERE (Millet). Tall, with aniline blue falls and lustrous bluish white standards. The clearness of the colors and the horizontally poised falls make it very attractive. 3½ ft.	3 for $1.00; .50
SIR MICHAEL (Yeld). Many regard this as the finest variety in the world. The falls are rich velvety red purple with a golden beard, the standards a clear blue lavender. It is very vigorous and makes a magnificent clump. 4 ft.	6.00
SNOW WHITE (Sturtevant). "As pure white as White Knight; even the markings are pale green, which gives it a delightfully fragile appearance. Good form, size and substance; over 3 ft." Miss Sturtevant's description. 3 ft.	3 for $2.50 1.00
SOPHRONIA (Morrison). This iris resembles Kashmir White but has proved to be a more sturdy and reliable grower in the East. The heavy substance of the flower reminds one of magnolia blossoms. 3 ft.	1.50
SOUV. DE LOETITIA MICHAUD (Millet). A wonderfully fine light blue iris carried on 4-foot stalks. Particularly recommended. In great demand. 4½ ft.	3 for $2.50 1.00
STIPPLES (Essig, 1928). A charming flower with bluish-violet stippling splashed on its white falls and bluish standards. 30 in.	3 for $2.00; .75
SUFFREN (Bliss). A pale violet-blue self of Pallida type. Free flowering and vigorous. 3 ft.	3 for $1.00; .50
SUNDEW (Essig, 1929). Pinard yellow, overlaid with empire yellow, with maroon purple lining at base of falls. Of wax-like substance with flaring falls. Particularly pleasing and very distinct. 2 ft.	3 for $2.50; 1.00

IRIS STYLOSA
(See Page 30)

SUNLIGHT (Sturtevant). An outstanding clear yellow carried on tall, well-branched stalks, flowers of good size. It is floriferous and very effective in the garden. We recommend it. 3 ft.	5.00
TAJ MAHAL (Sturtevant). A very vigorous, tall, pure white. 3 ft. 3 for $1.25;	.50
TANCRED (Sturtevant). A buff and purple combination which is different. 2½ ft. 3 for $1.00;	.50
TENEBRAE (Bliss). One of the famous "Dominions." It is a very rich deep purple of fine form. 3 ft. 3 for $1.00;	.50
THESEUS (Hort). A creamy white deepening to yellow in the throat. Very beautiful and especially recommended for California. 2½ ft.75
TID-BIT (Sturtevant). A low-growing lavender excellent for the border. 15 in. 3 for $1.00;	.50
TIMUR (Sturtevant). Velvety purple falls which are lighter at the margin. Substantial and pleasing. 2½ ft. 3 for $1.00;	.50
TITAN (Bliss). Violet-blue, falls flaring and darker than standards. Very sturdy grower and considered valuable for hybridizing purposes. 3 ft. 3 for $1.00;	.50
TROUVAILLE (Cayeux). Standards white; falls deep reddish-purple, with wide white margin. 2 ft. 3 for $2.00;	.75
TRUE CHARM (Sturtevant). White with lavender tracing. Part of its attractiveness lies in its carriage and form. 3½ ft. 3 for $1.00;	.50
TRUE DELIGHT (Sturtevant). This is one of the finest flowers we have ever seen. Pure white, edges and styles deep rose. It must be seen for its full beauty to be realized. 3 ft. 3 for $1.00;	.50
27 AVRIL (Denis). A Ricardi hybrid. A strong violet-purple borne splendidly on 4 ft. stems. 3 for $1.00;	.50
TYRIAN (Sturtevant). A vivid deep claret. 3 ft.	1.00
UNCLE REMUS (Essig, 1928). A deep mulberry-purple self with cadmium yellow beard. Earlier than Gaudichau, which was one parent. In two successive years before introduction it was rated 90 by a committee of the American Iris Society. 3½ ft. ..	1.00
VALKYRIE (Sturtevant). This huge iris with its olive standards and its long drooping velvety dark purple falls is unlike any other variety grown. The conspicuous veining on the upper portion of the falls adds to its effectiveness. 4 ft.	1.50
VIOLET LAKE (Dean). This is reproduced natural size and in color on page 18. It is a remarkably effective landscape variety and was outstanding in our gardens this past year. We are listing it at a price that will allow a general distribution. 2½ ft. 3 for $2.00;	.75
WEDGEWOOD (Dykes). One of the very bluest of the bearded irises and a very beautiful garden variety. It blooms freely. 3½ ft. 3 for $1.00;	.50
WESTERN SKIES (Essig, 1929). A fine silky pale blue, large flowers of good substance. A seedling of Miss Willmott. 3 to 5 ft.	1.00
WILD ROSE (Sturtevant). Colored as the name indicates. A very attractive flower. 3 ft. 3 for $1.00;	.50
WILLIAM MOHR (Mohr). A remarkable result of a cross between two races of bearded iris. A very large lilac flower with violet veins. It is beautiful and unusual. Particularly impressive as a cut flower. Fortunately also it is hardy. 2 ft. 3 for $3.00;	1.50
YELLOW MOON (Sturtevant). A soft yellow of pallida habit. 3 ft. Very desirable. 3 for $1.00;	.50

Varieties Grouped by Color

Many of our customers wish to get a general idea of the garden values of different irises without spending time to read through the entire list carefully. To help them we have grouped many of our listed varieties into color groups. Sometimes the same variety may occur in more than one group if its colors will allow it to be used where those groups are wanted in a planting.

It would be possible to subdivide each group into subgroups but no attempt has been made to do this as little would be gained for landscape purposes by so doing.

The great variety of color combinations in irises make any classification of this sort of nothing more than suggestive value. Color is only one of the elements which give iris character. The height, carriage, shape, substance, branching, abundance of blooms, and the character of the foliage, must be considered.

Our Stock

The ideal climate in which our gardens are located produces a quality of stock which is not surpassed. We are often asked if our irises are hardy in colder climates. We ship them all over the United States with perfect satisfaction and receive repeat orders year after year. As our season of blooming is advanced six weeks or so ahead of that in the Eastern States, it allows us to ripen the rhizomes in our rainless summer and send them without danger from rot in time to become well established for the following spring. This is an advantage too important to overlook.

DWARF BEARDED IRIS

GROUP III. Useful for Rock Gardens and Borders

The blooming season of this group is early; in California from January into March; in colder climates during April as a rule

	Dozen
ARAMIS (Millet). Straw yellow standards and deeper yellow falls. 4 to 6 in.	$ 3.50
AUREA MACULATA . Yellow with bright orange beard. Purplish venations on falls. 6 in.	2.50
BLUEBEARD (Perry). S. Bluish white; F. olive green with some purple veining. 8 to 10 in.	2.50
BLUESTONE (Perry). A purple in which the falls are only slightly darker than the standards. 6 to 8 in.	2.50
CITREA (G. & K.). Lemon yellow with orange beard. 4 to 6 in.	5.00
CURIOSITY (Perry). S. pale greenish yellow; F. green with deeper green and purple veining. 6 to 8 in.	2.50
GLORIA . Cream with some greenish-yellow veining on the falls. 6 to 8 in.	2.50
HARLEQUIN (Perry). Pale straw. 10 to 12 in.	2.50
MAROCAIN (Noveaute). A very blackish violet. One of the finest. 4 to 6 in.	5.00
NIOBE (Caparne). Rich purple. Very free flowering. 4 to 10 in.	2.50
ORANGE QUEEN (Perry). Clear yellow. 4 to 6 in.	3.50
SNOWCUP . Pure white standards and greenish white falls. 6 to 10 in.	2.50

ONCOCYCLUS

The varieties of this group are natives of Asia Minor and Persia where the summers are rainless. They start to grow with the fall rains and grow throughout the winter. Susiana grows well in California and is being successfully grown by many amateur gardeners in other parts of the country. It has to be given winter protection in the colder sections and has to be lifted in sections which have summer rains. Grow in full sun in warm location. Likes lime.

	Each
IRIS SUSIANA (The Mourning Iris). A wonderful flower of large size, borne on 12 in. stems. It looks as if it were almost black, flecked with grey. In reality it has purple-black veining and spotting on a grey ground. The standards are somewhat lighter than the falls. Fall delivery only. $10.00 a dozen.	1.00

REGELIA

This group of bearded iris is closely related to the Oncocyclus group but is much easier to grow. It includes some of the most beautiful of all irises and will be much more extensively grown when better known. The rhizomes must be kept dry during the summer, either by lifting or being placed where they get no irrigation. Growth does not start until late winter or early spring.

	Each
HOOGIANA . Native of Turkestan. The late Mr. Dykes, the leading iris authority, thinks that "Iris Hoogiana is perhaps the most aristocratic of all irises. There is a grace and distinction about the large flowers of uniform color, set off by the bright golden beard, which is not found even in the best pallidas." Color, pale grey-blue. 1½ ft. Fall delivery only.	1.00
STOLONIFERA . Native of Russian Turkestan. Those who see it stand and admire. The finest things cannot be described. Flowers shot with "electro-blue." Falls and standards wavy. Fall delivery.	1.00

REGELIO-CYCLUS HYBRIDS

We are growing a number of hybrids of this type but are listing only two this year. They are particularly vigorous and easy to grow, much easier than Susiana.

	Each
SATURN. Beautiful deep purple veining on a grey ground. The flowers are not so round as in Susiana but are large and of excellent substance. Easy to handle as a cut flower. 2 ft.	1.00
PARTHENOPE (Van Tubergen). A light red purple.	1.50

POGONOCYCLUS HYBRIDS

CHEROKEE MAID (Williamson). (Susiana x ?). A very dark maroon. The flowers are sometimes imperfect but the perfect flowers are beautiful.	1.00
DILKASH (Foster). This variety is easily grown. It is a cross of iberica by pallida . 3 for	1.00
HAMADAN (Foster). Rich violet with black beard.	1.00
IBPALL (Foster). (Iberica x Pallida). Large, free flowering, shades of red and violet with a bronze beard. 2 ft. 3 for	1.00
LADY LILFORD (Foster). A rich purple hybrid of paradoxa by pallida . Large flower. 3 for	1.00
NEFERT (Foster). (Pallida x Iberica). A very beautiful violet flower which has no veining. Nothing else at all like it. 3 for	1.00
PANDORA (Foster). A light pinkish blue.	1.50
PARACINA (Foster). Dwarf. Very deep purple.	1.00
WILLIAM MOHR (Mohr). A remarkable result of a cross between two races of bearded iris. A very large lilac flower with violet veins. It is beautiful and unusual. Particularly impressive as a cut flower. Fortunately also it is hardy. 2 ft. 3 for $3.00;	1.50
ZWANENBURG (Denis). (Lutescens aurea by Susiana). A large and very unusual flower in shades of cream and purple. Vigorous and hardy. 3 for	1.00
Collection of 10 varieties (including Wm. Mohr).	6.00

EVANSIA [Crested Iris]

	Each
JAPONICA. Native of Central China and Japan. The foliage is evergreen. The flowers are borne in large numbers on 2 to 3 ft. branching stems. Pale blue brightened with yellow. Segments wavy. Give partial shade and more water than for bearded iris. .	.50
TECTORUM. Native of Central China. Is grown on the thatched roofs in Japan. Flowers much larger than Japonica , blue-purple with conspicuous white crest on falls. 15 in.50
WATTII. A beautiful and rare iris from the Himalaya Mountains. The flowers are like those of Japonica but white and are carried on panicles on 4 to 5 ft. stems.	1.00

APOGON [Beardless Iris]

American Species

The varieties of this group are quite different in appearance from the bearded iris. The leaves are blade-like and in California are green all winter. The flowers, in contrast to the bearded iris, are flat. They can stand more water than the bearded varieties and do well in partial shade. They are particularly effective in borders and around pools.

	Three	Ten
CACIQUE (Berry). A dark rich purple with golden signal patch. 3 to 5 ft. $1.00 each	2.50	7.50
CHRYSOPHOENICIA (Small). The Gold and Purple iris. Discovered in Louisiana it has proved hardy and is unquestionably one of the most beautiful of the native American irises. The flower is large, deeper in color than vinicolor and the golden patch more spreading. A rare variety. $2.50 each	5.00
DOROTHEA K. WILLIAMSON (Williamson). A hybrid of fulva and foliosa. The flowers are large and are very brilliant velvety purple, borne on 30 in. stems. A fine cut flower. Hardy. $0.75 each	2.00	6.00
FOLIOSA. This is much like Hexagona except reduced in height. Color blue. Height 12 in. Native of Southern United States. $0.75 each	2.00	6.00
FULVA. Flowers bright terra cotta on 18 in. stems. No other iris of this brick red color known. All six segments slightly drooping. Native in South but is easily grown in the Northern United States. Flourishes in California. $0.75 each	2.00	6.00
HEXAGONA. A striking tall blue iris which makes a beautiful combination with the yellow Spurias. Flowers in late April and early May in California. The true variety is seldom listed. 3 to 4 ft. $1.00 each	2.75	8.50
HEXAGONA ALBA. As far as we know, we are the only concern in the United States offering this beautiful and rare iris. The flower is large, of good substance, and greatly admired by all who have seen it. 3 1/2 ft. $5.00 each
PURPUREA. A raisin purple hybrid. 3 1/2 ft.	1.50	4.00
SAVANNARUM. A tall blue which can be grown in the pool if desired. It also grows well in the garden. The petals are thicker and more pointed than Hexagona. 3 1/2 ft. 3 for $2.00; 10 for $6.00

VINICOLOR (Small). This rare and exquisite wine colored iris was discovered in Louisiana but has proved hardy in the north. A central golden yellow stripe lights the center of the flower. It is by no means plentiful in Louisiana and our stock is limited. 3 1/2 ft. $2.50 each
YELLOW FULVA. A very rare variety never before listed. It is not only beautiful in itself but should be of great interest to all hybridizers. $15.00 each

SIBERIAN IRIS
(See Page 31)

JAPANESE IRIS

Japanese iris need an abundance of water at blooming time but not throughout the year. The flowers are large and flat, often 8 or 10 inches across, and are in white, blue, purple, pinks and lavenders. We ship in the fall and the spring, the latter probably being the best time to plant.

	Each
GOLD BOUND. Double. Pure snow white with gold bar. Large.....	$.75
KAGA-RIBI (Torchlight). Single. A fine light lavender, veined red-purple.....	.75
KOKI-NO-IRO (Unusual color). Double. Deep blue purple with a prominent orange blotch.....	.75
KURO-KUMO (Dark clouds). Double. Dark blue purple with yellow zone.....	.75
VIOLET BEAUTY. Single. Main color a deep blue violet.....	.75

WATER IRIS (Page 31)

BULBOUS BEARDLESS IRIS

[[Dutch Iris]]

The iris of this group have bulbs, not rhizomes. We ship from August to November 1st. Minimum quantities, 1 dozen.

IMPERATOR. A large blue of very intense color. One of the best. Per dozen. $1.25
 Per 100. 9.00

WEDGEWOOD. Probably the finest of all Dutch Iris yet introduced. Wedgewood Blue. Very tall and vigorous. Per dozen. 2.50

TINGITANA, THE FIRST. Similar to Wedgewood but dark blue. Per dozen. 2.50
Mixture of superior varieties. Per dozen. 2.00

Unguicularis

A more euphonious name by which this group is often known is that of Stylosa. While scientifically we must talk of unguicularis, because this name was given first, in our gardens may we not grow stylosa? The garden use of the iris in this group is reserved for those who live in the milder climates.

The plants start blooming in the fall and bloom throughout the winter. They grow wild in Algeria, Greece and Asia Minor. The foliage is grass-like and the flowers are borne on stem-like parts, really elongated perianth tubes, 8 to 16 inches long. The flower is one of great refinement and is delightful in the house.

Plant preferably from August to December. We do not advise planting later than February except in balled clumps.

	Each	Dozen
STYLOSA. Lilac blue with grassy evergreen foliage.	$.25	$ 2.50
STYLOSA ALBA. A white form.25	2.50
STYLOSA ALTAFLORA. The flowers in this selected form are taller and bluer than in the ordinary stylosa and the foliage is narrower. It is a superior form of this beautiful iris which we are listing for the first time.35	3.50
STYLOSA MARGINATA. A form of bluer hue and somewhat broader foliage than above. Makes a very rank growth.25	2.50
STYLOSA SPECIOSA. A violet form, narrower foliage and somewhat smaller flower and shorter perianth tube.75

Spurias

(We ship these in the fall only. We can move them locally at other times of year.)

The iris in this group should be grown much more extensively than they are at the present time. The flowers last for a long time and the buds keep opening after cutting. In shape the flowers are almost identical with the Dutch and Spanish Iris and are as easy to handle without injury. The flower stalks, however, are from 4 to 6 feet high. The foliage is swordlike, as in the preceding group, but dies down during the winter. The plants are very effective in the border where they make large clumps.

	Three	Ten
AUREA. A tall deep yellow. In California it is at the peak of its blooming period the last part of April or early in May. We recommend planting groups of six or twelve rhizomes. Somewhat later than Ochroleuca . 5 ft. See color illustration on page 6.	2.00	6.00
GOLDEN NUGGET (Dean, 1931). This new hybrid is a large flowered soft yellow spuria, deeper than Monnieri but softer than Aurea . We think it will become a standard variety. Each $2.50	5.00

*Plant bearded iris in sunny well drained locations
 Just barely cover the rhizomes of bearded iris*

*Use light colors in the distance
 For a bright border use a mixture of dwarf iris*

Send us a rough idea of your planting space. We will gladly offer suggestions for grouping

	Three	Ten
MONSPUR. A tall, light bluish purple. 4 ft.	2.75	8.50
MONNIERI. Soft primrose yellow. Segments somewhat broader than in Aurea. 4 ft.	2.00	6.00
OCHROLEUCA. White with a yellow patch on the falls. Tall and effective. 5 ft.75	2.25
OCHROLEUCA SULPHUREA. Similar to the preceding but cream instead of white. Very beautiful. 5 ft.	1.25	4.00
SHELFORD GIANT. Very large creamy flowers with an orange spot on the falls. A superior variety.	5.00	15.00

Siberica

The iris in this group have grass-like foliage, which dies down in winter. The plants are free flowering and the flower stalks are tall. They prefer rich soil and plenty of moisture.

	Each
EMPEROR. Deep violet-blue. 4 ft.	$.75
KINGFISHER BLUE (Wallace). One of the newer Siberians which is fine. Larger and brighter than Perry's Blue. 4½ ft.	1.00
PAPILLION (Dykes). A very beautiful clear soft blue borne on tall branching stalks. Certainly one of the finest of the Siberians. 4½ ft.	1.50
PERRY'S BLUE. Skyblue with horizontal falls. 4 ft.75
In Spring water frequently the Japanese, Sibericas, Hexagons

Mrs. Bullard's Hybrid Watsonias

Watsonias, which come from South Africa, are closely related to gladiolus. They are, however, much taller, 3 ft. to 6 ft., and produce more flowers over a longer period. The spikes are more graceful and are excellent for cutting. They are in bloom during the iris season and add greatly to the beauty of the iris garden.

	Dozen
E. D. STURTEVANT. A vivid shade of orange scarlet. Excellent for cutting.	4.00
HERBERT HOOVER. A brilliant salmon pink with orange shadings. Large flowers.	4.00
J. J. DEAN. A rich rose color with violet tints and dark throat.	2.50
MARGINATA. A beautiful blend of lilac and pink. Distinct.	2.50
MRS. ELLA BIRNEY. Rose color with white markings in throat.	2.50

..Quip..

MORAEA IRIDIODES. This plant, a native of South Africa, while not an iris, is closely related. The foliage is stiff and dark green. The flower stems grow to three or four feet and produce blooms several times throughout the year. The flowers are a pure waxy white with lavender style branches and a conspicuous yellow beard. Each .75

LABELS

Due to popular demand we are this year offering our permanent labels for the convenience of those who wish to keep the names of their iris or of other plants. The label is a stamped aluminum tag securely fastened to a stiff galvanized wire stake 2½ ft. long. We believe this is an ideal label because it is always in a position easy to read and because it is entirely weather proof. Simply send us the names of the iris or other plants for which you desire permanent labels. Each 20c

QUANTITY PRICES: Prices of new introductions are for single rhizomes. Standard varieties (see page 22) are quoted only in groups of 3 and 10. Price per hundred or in larger quantities, also prices for special collections, will be cheerfully furnished upon request.

POSTAGE: We prepay postage anywhere in the United States on orders amounting to $2.00 and over. On orders of less than $2.00 add 25 cents to cover postage.

TERMS: Cash with order. Remit by personal check, express or postal money order.

ORDER EARLY: All sales are made subject to stock being unsold and fit for shipping when order is received. Order early to avoid any chance of disappointment. We do not substitute unless you so advise.

GUARANTEE: We exercise due care to keep all varieties true to name and hold ourselves in readiness to replace, upon proof, any stock that may be otherwise. We ship only healthy, live, growing stock which we guarantee to arrive in good condition. However, we cannot be expected to guarantee results of planting because of the lack of control over planting conditions. Competent advice on the growing of irises is cheerfully furnished so that you, like many other satisfied customers, should have no difficulty at all in growing this easy-to-grow stock.

LANDSCAPING AND PLANTING SERVICE: We offer our services in helping you work out any of your planting problems and will submit plans, or if you wish, we will offer suggestions regarding any tentative plans which you have made. We make no charge for this service.
