Dear Friends,

801-825-7287
Chris Rabee
Genesis

With great anticipation we await the Iris Season, in fact we've been waiting for it since 1977's last flower folded. Of course the summer months have their own particular charm as new plants arrive to bring dreams of added beauty for the next season, and until late fall as we care for the irises, our thoughts are never far from the object of our dreams.

Our special thanks for your continued loyalty to Mission Bell Gardens. We deeply appreciate your friendly letters, too often unanswered because time runs out.

Our gardens are once more filled with precious treasures from many areas. We earnestly hope that, with our rather short growing season, the irises we have seen in other gardens will do as well in ours: Luihn's Temple Gold, Corlew's Birthday Song, Dr. Knocke's Crow's Nest, McWhirter's Tennessee Frost, and others too numerous to mention.

Guest irises blooming beautifully on one-year plants last year include: Keppel's Firewater, by far the "bluest" red-bearded iris we have grown; and his Flamenco really does "upstage" Caramba with its flamboyant coloring which gives it great garden value and that unknown quality we refer to as "personality." Bob Brown's wide-petaled, tangerine-bearded Monaco was a "show-off," Gaultier's Persian Berry seems to be a color break—we have seen no other in this lovely shade of blue-raspberry. Ghio's Bicentennial, with yellow standards and margins on the wide lacy falls, surpassed all others in this color class. (Our stock on this is very limited, we suggest you purchase it from its home garden.) Not new, but as gorgeous as we remembered it, was Schreiner's Cranberry Ice, truly deserving of its high rating.

Varieties not yet seen, but receiving high praise are: Bennett Jones' Jeanne Price, Julander's Bride's Lace, and Schreiners' Superstition and Windsor Rose—if these last two are as beautiful as their portraits, our season will be complete!

We earnestly hope all irisarians have a 1978 season that will again prove Iris is indeed Goddess of the spring garden.

Sincerely yours,

Melba and Jim
