A NATIONAL DISPLAY GARDEN OF IRIS ENSATA
(JAPANESE IRIS)

Chad Harris Hybridizer

Mailing Address:
Mt Pleasant Iris Farm
Post Office Box 346
Washougal, Washington 98671-0346

Location of Farm

Phone: 360-835-1016

The garden is open for public viewing April 27 to July 9: Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday: 8:00AM to 5:00PM. Clubs, large groups and other days of viewing are welcome by appointment.

It is best to see the bloom and plant in person. It is impossible to describe an iris bloom in a few words and do it justice. Please use the photos as a guide to help clarify the written word.

GREATER PORTLAND IRIS SOCIETY

Dates for your calendar: Sunday, May 7–Early Iris Show, June 11–Late Show

The garden will be closed on these dates as I will be manning the shows.

Information for the shows can be found at www.greaterportlandirissociety.org events calendar or contact me.

You and your family are invited to join the Greater Portland Iris Society, an affiliate of the American Iris Society. Only $12.00 per household will put you on a mailing list regarding upcoming meetings, with guest speakers focusing on the many types of iris. We also have potlucks, shows, club plant sales, and public plant sales.

ORDERING AND SHIPPING

Shipping and handling fees are for Continental U.S. and Alaska only. Sorry no International Orders.

All orders are accepted subject to the availability of stock. Your check or money order must be sent with your order. Orders will be processed in the order received; you'll be immediately contacted, by e-mail or phone.

Please order early for best selections

We ship August and September. Try not to request a date when your temperatures will be above 95°F but at least a month before your first frost. We ship at the first of the week so that your order will be ready for you to plant on the weekend. Plants are shipped bare root.

Inspected and cleared each year to be disease and pest free by the Washington State Department of Agriculture, we ship healthy true to name stock. Complaints about conditions of stock must be sent to us immediately after package is received. We cannot be responsible for loss over the winter or your growing practices. Plants may not bloom the first year after transplanting; if they do it will not be typical of a two or three year old plant.

BEARDED IRIS

Over the years I have been selecting for show quality cut blooms and plants that are more disease resistant in the Columbia River Gorge, USDA Zone 8, with an annual rain fall of 90-plus inches.

Culture: Full sun, good air circulation, moderately fertile soil, good drainage, lifting and dividing every three years will give you strong plants with show stems and bloom.

Deciduous and summer drought tolerant.

S – Standards, the top half of the flower

F – Falls, the bottom half of the flower B – Beard, the fuzzy appendage on the fall

STANDARD DWARF BEARDED (SDB)

IRIS LAEVIGATA

Found native to China ("Yian-zi-hui") and Japan ("Kakitsubata" little rabbit ears). A true water iris, I. laevigata will look its best growing in shallow water or a large container with a deep reservoir filled with water. However it can also thrive in a moist garden setting such as a rain garden receiving 1-2 inches weekly. All are deciduous. Growing from 24 to 36 inches tall with 4 to 6 inch flowers. It blooms in late May with Siberian and Tall Breaded iris. Zone 3-8 (9?)

SPECIES IRIS

Iris graminea	Native to central and southern Europe. Thin graceful fountain foliage 18 to 24 inches tall is deciduous. Small thumb size bright purple and white blooms are found hidden deep in the foliage late May. Cut some blooms and bring indoors to enjoy the wonderful scent of ripe plums. Needs full sun, sharp drainage, and summer drought. Zone 5-8 (9?)	$6.00
Iris japonica	Native to Asia, Many (20 plus) small pale blue-lavender blooms, opening a few at a time, on a multi-branched stalk 18 to 24 inches. Needs afternoon shade and a loose humus rich soil where it will become a ground cover, great in the hosta bed. Cold areas grow in containers and bring in doors during deep freezes. Evergreen foliage shows freeze damage at 28 F, blooms early spring. Zone 8-9	$6.00

|---------------------------------|--|--------|
| Iris pallida 'Dalmatica' | (collected, cultivated before 1600) Vigorous tall bearded, flower stems 36' Fragrant blue violet flowers, grow as you would modern bearded irises. See bearded iris culture and care. Zone 3-9 | $5.00 |
| Iris Tectorum | 18 to 24 inches tall. Native to Asia. This woodland plant is happiest in a high filtered shaded area, or morning sun with afternoon shade, enjoys loose soil rich in humus. Large 4" violet flowers are freckled darker, a great addition for the hosta and fern bed. Zone 4-9 | $6.00 |

SPECIES-X AND "PSEUDATA"

A cross between two or more different species of the iris world

Giving strength and cultural versatility

Grow in rain gardens, at the water's edge of a pond or in a very moist garden setting.

"Pseudata" is the name being given to hybrids involving
Iris pseudacorus (blends) and Iris ensata (Japanese iris)

Zone (3?) 4-9

SPECIAL NOTE: Many of these plants are chartreuse in the early spring, especially in the Pacific Northwest, very striking for the garden. They will green up by early summer; it all depends on your late winter and early spring sunshine and how strong it is.

- | | | |
|---------------------------|--|---------|
| Ally Oops | (Borglum '02) 36" A presumed cross between a Siberian and Iris pseudacorus. This plant has the robust ease of growing like pseudacorus but minus the seed pods, no dead-heading. The large showy blooms are cream, heavily veined bright blue violet with light blue standards. Full sun to lightly filtered with loose rich moist soil, deciduous, very vigorous and hardy
Light chartreuse foliage-Blooms May | $10.00 |
| French Buttercream | (Harris '16) " Pseudata " 50"-60" Large round cream colored blooms very late in the season above the soft fountain foliage.
Bright chartreuse foliage-Blooms June/July | $30.00 |
| Gubijin | (Shimizu) 36" to 52" It will present with many two inch gold blooms and great strong upright foliage. Plant in full sun, with loose moist soil rich in organics. Not invasive with seed. This is the pod parent for many "Pseudata"
Bright chartreuse foliage-Blooms early June | $10.00 |
| Holden's Child | (Tiffney '88) 36" Second generation away from a wide cross involving Iris pseudacorus and an unknown gives a robust plant that is not invasive with seed. The dark red violet falls are topped with soft amethyst violet standards. Full sun with a loose rich moist soil, deciduous, very vigorous
Light chartreuse foliage-Blooms May | $10.00 |
| Okagami | (Shimizu '08) " Pseudata " 40 to 42 inches, large 4-5" white blooms purple halo.
Bright chartreuse foliage-Blooms June/July | $10.00 |
| Roy Davidson | (Hager '87) 36 to 42 inches tall with many 3-inch bright gold flowers in May
Roy Davidson is much like one of its grandparents Iris pseudacorus. It can be grown in the water or a moist garden setting. But unlike Iris pseudacorus, Roy Davidson is not invasive with seed, very hardy,
Green foliage-Blooms May | $10.00 |

IRIS ENSATA

(JAPANESE IRIS)

Iris ensata have been selectively bred from wild forms found in northern Asia, known as "Hanashobu" in Japan. Their cultural needs are very demanding, thriving in rich moist soils, if met they will reward you with a magnificent display of color approximately 2 to 3 weeks after Tall Bearded, Siberian, and Iris laevigata bloom. Peak bloom in our garden is the last two weeks of June, first week in July. Very good as a container plant for the patio, see container culture.

DESCRIPTION

Height, number of branches, and buds, were taken when the plants were three years old, and grown to my best ability. Culture has a great influence; please refer to the cultural sheet.

F = FALLS	Number of petals - 3F single, 6F double, 9-12F, peony form
S = STANDARDS	The 3 smaller petals of a 3F flower.
STYLES	The 3 female parts of the flower. Some flowers have multiples that can be most striking.
CREST	The flared end of the styles. Can be very large and showy.
VEINS	A color pattern when the veins are darker than the base color of the petals.
RAYS	A color pattern when the veins are lighter than the base color of the petals.
SIGNAL	The bright colored spear on all falls. Can range from saffron to bright gold.
HALO	The area around the Signal. Only some irises have a halo, it can be very note worthy.
