PACIFICAS

Pacificas are native to CA, OR and WA. They like a milder climate, but do well with some snow and winter freeze in the pacific coastal areas. We have been surprised how well they grow in this part of OR with the amount of rain that normally falls. They do seem to do better than they did for us in CA.

Plant in a protected area in acid soil as soon as you receive them and keep them wet and shaded until the fall rains take over. Treatment with Subdue (as directed on the label) has been very effective, with dipping in a mixture of 1/4 tsp to 4 gal of water. Drench the bed before planting and water with the same mixture every 2 to 4 weeks. Be sure roots are wet on receipt of plants. Plant (covering the foot of rhizome) water well and mulch heavily. NOT HARDY EAST OF THE CASCADES. We cannot guarantee the plants and would advise ordering only if you know they grow well in your area. Please name several alternates in case we run short and have to substitute. We will do our best to please you! Shipping late Sep thru early Oct. If you order TB iris and Pacificas, send double postage as they will be shipped separately.
