

Exhibitions Committee Report, 1967

WILLIAM T. BLEDSOE, Chairman

The 1967 iris bloom season was consistently inconsistent throughout most of the nation—a condition reflected in the number and distribution of show reports. An unprecedentedly early bloom in the Southeast caused consternation and conflict in judges' dates as shows were "moved up", and resulted ultimately in cancellation of many exhibitions in that normally productive area. Late freezes were the culprits that ruined many shows in other parts. But on the West Coast varying weather made possible shows from November 1966 until early July 1967. In spite of the whims of the elements, it was a good year overall.

The all-time great of the show benches, VIOLET HARMONY, made a strong comeback from last year's lesser showing to gain a first-place tie with FLUTED HAVEN, INDIGLOW, and CELESTIAL SNOW for the NELSON AWARD (given to the iris selected the greatest number of times as Best of Show). Each was chosen for that honor in four shows.

One hundred four show reports have been received at the time this is being written (August 3), which compares quite favorably with 1966 when 106 reports were on hand at the same time. A total of 472 individual AIS certificates were issued. Names of exhibitors winning top awards are given in another part of this report.

The count of shows reported by regions is, as follows:

Region	Shows	Region	Shows
1	4	13	8
2	2	14	9
3	2	15	18
4	0	16	0
5	2	17	5
6	12	18	10
7	2	19	1
8	3	20	1
9	1	21	2
10	1	22	8
11	2	23	3
12	3	24	5
		TOTAL	104

Some regions are more show-conscious than are others and, therefore, have many shows. Region 15 has August Phillips, a capable and active regional exhibition chairman, who is strongly supported by the energetic RVP, Mrs. Barbara Serdynski. This "team" promotes iris shows effectively in their region, and then makes certain a report is mailed for each. The results speak for themselves.

Specialty shows continue to be popular. Exhibitions for remontants were held in November 1966 by the San Diego-Imperial Counties Iris Society and in January 1967 by the Southern California Iris Society. Cascade Wonderlands Iris Society, Redding, California, staged an aril show, as did the Los Angeles Area of Aril Society International, and the Albuquerque, New Mexico, aril group. The Society for Louisiana Irises held their annual show at LaFayette, Louisiana. The Dwarf Iris Society held their first AIS-approved show at Westfield, Indiana. (We hope they make it an annual event.)

Judges are becoming more fully aware of specialty entries in regular shows. The most worthy seedling in the Escondido, California, show was a California native hybrid. The Best of Show at the Sacramento, California, show was pseudacorous PRIMROSE; at Lubbock, Texas, the spuria, GOLDEN LADY; at Arcadia, California, the spuria, DUTCH DEFIANCE, shared with a tall bearded; and at Tulsa, Oklahoma, the Louisiana, RUTH ANN.

More and more clubs are having multiple shows. The San Diego, California, group held three shows, while at Los Angeles the Southern California Iris Society held two, as did Cascade Wonderland Iris Society at Redding, California. Wichita, Kansas, Area Society staged an early show for the arils and the medians, and a latter one for the TBs and others. This club seems to have found a workable solution to the problem of having more than one show a year. They pick an able-bodied man as General Chairman and give him both shows (this year the chairman was George Torrey, last year Jim Fry). San Diego, California, has used the same system, having placed on Paul Runde the chairmanship for two shows.

Minneapolis (Twin City Iris Society) again led all others in attendance for a two-day show—and this year it was held in spite of a late freeze that would have discouraged a less determined chairman than Mrs. Greta Kessenich. On the morning after the freeze, only scant days from the show date, she announced grimly and emphatically: “Blooms or not—there will be a show!” Volunteer workers scoured the area for bloomstalks. There was a show, with 900 entries, and 17,000 spectators.

Another “first” was scored by the San Diego-Imperial County Iris Society when they held a summer show as a part of the Southern California Exposition in Del Mar, June 23 through July 4, 1967. The show rules required fresh specimens every other day during the twelve days of the Exposition, and prohibited judging of a specimen more than once. This amounted to a series of six consecutive shows, and kept Show Chairman, Bill Gunther, and Senior AIS Judge, Mrs. Archie Owens, operating at full speed to insure that “the show must go on!” Attendance for the twelve days topped 300,000.

Many shows boasted of exceptional educational exhibits. Perhaps the most distinctive one was reported by the North Alabama Iris Society in its exhibition at Florence, Alabama. Here the entire cycle of hybridizing, from the cross-pollination of a full-size bloom by the human hand to the planting of the seeds, was depicted in ceramics by J. M. (Skip) Ross of Huntsville, Alabama.

Again there were shows which were not reported. This negligence by show officials deprives winning exhibitors of AIS awards which they have merited. It also prevents including names of winners in the AIS Bulletin summary, so that credit may be given where due. Failure to report is a sure-fire method of drying up the enthusiasm of exhibitors for future shows. Please, show chairmen, do send in your show reports by August 1 each year.
